Delivering the right taste requires the right equipment. Flowtrend's valves, pumps, tank equipment and service parts are manufactured to meet the demanding operating conditions needed to produce safe, high-quality beverages. The pocket free design and polished wetted areas of our components prevent product build ups that can cause bacterial growth –so the only thing that makes it into your customer's glass is flavor. Flowtrend is fully committed to helping members of the beverage industry meet their high standards, with equipment that's equally exceptional.
